

RYAN FITCHES

Ryan is a porter at the Imaging Services department at Glenfield Hospital.

“I escort patients to their MRI, CT or x-ray scan appointment to the specific rooms.”

“I have to speak and interact with patients and other staff that I work with.”

“I also have to push the hospital beds to and from certain areas.”

“I enjoy chatting to and making a nice conversation with patients. I like that I can keep fit by moving around during my daily duties. I am counting my steps!”

Ryan finds it challenging to navigate some of the heavy equipment like wheelchairs and beds. Walking to and from the different areas of the hospital can also feel tiring for him.

Since he is enjoying his internship, Ryan would like to continue to work as a porter within Imaging Services.
